

Seminar series - Trinity Term 2018

Embodied methods: Art and social science in dialogue

Thursday, 10 May, 1-2pm
Monday, 14 May, 12-1pm
Thursday, 17 May, 12-2pm

Institute of Social and Cultural Anthropology, 61 Banbury Road,
Oxford, OX2 6PE

- 10 May      Caroline Potter
Research Officer, Nuffield Department of Population Health, University of Oxford
“How could it be otherwise? The body as resource for exploring the past”
- 14 May      Grace Lucas
Research Fellow, School of Health Sciences, City, University of London
“The matter of being: Knowing bodies and 'mental' health”
- 17 May      Rebecca D. Harris
Independent Artist
“My fat body: An axis for research”
- Marie-Louise Crawley
Choreographer, Dancer, and PhD candidate, Coventry University
“What remains? Dancing archaeology”

Convenors: Karin Eli, Anna Lavis, and Stanley Ulijaszek

ALL WELCOME